During the CoVID-19 pandemic while the whole world is under threat, we Indians are united to fight against it. Government of India has involved technology to develop an Arogyasetu app and trying its level best to save the citizens. Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi has appealed every Indian to download this app which provides current updates on Corona, offers self- assessment and wares about do's and don'ts. In case of an emergency, it even helps to get the e-pass issued to travel. NCC as the second line of defense has taken the responsibility to reach this message to every Indian. Three cadets of Vidya Devi Jindal School, Hisar namely Shivanshi, Ume kulsoom and Simran also got the opportunity to contribute in this noble cause. With the guidance of ma'am Principal, CO of our unit 3HAR GIRLS BN NCC, Hisar. They conducted door to door campaigning in staff colony of the School. In their 2 days efforts they could reach to 70 families and they suggested them to download this app. Some of them readily downloaded it and a few of them were very apprehensive about it. The cadets cleared their doubts to persuade them also to do so.

Personal experience of cadets:

I was really very excited about this campaign. I searched about this app and found it very interesting and helpful. Almost everybody was very positive about this app, except very few. They were little reluctant about this app. According to them this app needs lots of personal information about them, which they did not like to share and some of them were having a concern about their phone battery. It was a great experience dealing with different people.

Cadet Shivanshi

It was a good experience and I enjoyed interacting with different people having different views about government policies. Our support staff members were really very enthusiastic about this app and they very happily downloaded this app. Very few of them were worried as they were not possessing smart phone, but they really wanted that app even in their simple phone.

Cadet Simran

The door-to-door campaign for installation of Aarogya Setu app on smartphone was a wonderful experience. It helped me to become more aware about the ongoing CoVID 19 pandemic and the benefits of Aarogya Setu app. I got the opportunity to create awareness about the same amongst others too. This event succoured me to be conscious and spread the cognizance among the society.
